

I believe in a free market society. XM paid to put the satellites in the sky, and should be able to market them however they want. In turn, I should be allowed to pay them for any service I want.

Radio (along with the country) is being ruined by giant conglomerations that want to homogenize the entertainment they want you to hear. I PAY for radio that is different than the drivel companies like Clearchannel want me to hear. DONT LET THEM BUY YOUR VOTE.
